Sir:

In response to Office Letter mailed 09/22/2004, please amend the above application as follows:

Claims:

a. The Cancellation-and-Substitution Method

Please cancel claims 1-5 and replace them with new claim 6 and 7.

6. A disposable paste dispensing toothbrush comprising:

(a) a toothbrush head of conventional size and shape with toothbrush bristles fixably attached with several dispensing orifices beginning at the bristle head interface of said toothbrush head and connecting to an internal paste conducting head channel;

(b) a toothbrush handle fixably attached to said toothbrush head with an internal paste conducting handle channel connecting to said paste conducting head channel;

(c) a toothpaste tube with top and bottom ends, fixably attached to said toothbrush handle at said top end with an opening from said paste conducting handle channel to the inside of said toothpaste tube at said top end and said bottom end left open for filling said toothpaste tube with paste material;

(d) said toothpaste tube is filled by a toothpaste supplier at said open bottom end with sufficient paste, approximately 21 grams, such that toothpaste supply expires before said toothbrush bristles are worn enough to lose their cleaning effectiveness; and
